Close upon the first despatch came another stating that the decision in McLuckie's case hinged to some extent on the fact that as a public official his duty called him to the scene of the riot of two weeks ago, and that it did not apply to the other cases

PREPARING TO START UP.

Fully 162 Men at Work in the Homestead Mills To-Day.

[SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.]
HOWESTRAD, Pa., July 20.—Outwardly there was no change in the Homestead situation this morning. The troops went about their usual camp duties, the shrill fife and drum resounding everywhere, while the and talked about their troubles.

Underneath this smooth exterior there was seetning caldron of trouble.

When yesterday's research the caldron of trouble there was seetning caldron of trouble the calcron of workmen, and when he announced this morning that Homestead would be garrisoned inorigades now encamped here, they were dis-

The protestations of pleasure at the coming of the troops ceased long ago, and the relations between the town and camp have been growing more and more strained day by day, w the men are assuming an openly hostile air towards the unwelcome visitors.

The Homestead men were much disappointed when the order to break camp was not issued yesterday. They had counted upon that all along, meditaining their attitude of peace and order. They had expected that only a company or two of soldiers would to left to guard the works, and felt confident that no "black sheep" would dare enter Homestead with their hope in such a guard or protection.

I But with more than five thousand armed soldiers on the hill to stay indefinitely they know that the boast of Secretary Lovejoy and Chairman Frick that they would start the bills with new men if the old ones did pot return by to-morrow is more than an idle

The Carnegie folks are living up to the quasi agreement made in the posted notices of last week, and it is not thought that they will take any steps toward a filling the works with new men till Friday, giving the old men the full four days, ending to-morrow night, to come back if they so desire. Scouts who have watched the general port that scores of men, many of whom are past three days and some of them confessed that they had been to apply for places in the

W. J. Brennan and John F. Cox, attorneys for the men, said to-day that no arrests on behalf of the men would be made for the present, though they were positive that Mr. Frick and others would be arrested later. A county official told an Evening Wort p reporter this morning that there was a probability that a house-to-house search would be made in Homestead and vicinity for the Winchester rifles stolen from the Pinkertons by the mob. This search will probably be conducted by the Sheriff's deputies, supported by the militia. While these subjects are agitating the minds of the men of Homestead the soldiers

TO-NIGHT'S MEETING.

All Ready for the Notification Ceremonies in the Big Garden.

Messrs. Cleveland and Stevenson Arrive on the Steamer Pilgrim.

Cheered by Workingmen on the Pler - Their Movements in This City.

Everything is in readiness for the ceremonies at Madison square Garden to-night when Grover Cleveland and Adlal E. Stevenson are to be formally notified of their pominations by the Democratic party's National Convention for President and Vice-President of the United States.

Ex-President Cleveland and Gen. Stevenson, accompanied by W. G. Ewing, of Chicago, and R. T. O'Brien, Mr. Cleveland's private Secretary, arrived in the city on the Fall River line steamer Pilgrim at 7.15 o'clock this morning. It was Mr. Cleveland's request that his coming and his stay bere should be attended with as little pomp and display as possible, and therefore there was no demonstration on the pier. A few workmen who knew that the distinguished Democrats were coming gathered at the foot of the gangplank to get a good look at the can-

Mr. Cleveland was the first to step off the bont, and Mr. Stevenson quickly followed him. Both shook hands with an Evening Wonth reporter, who was considerably impressed with the difference of the bands ing of the two men. Mr. Cleveland's "shake," as New Yorkers know, is hearty and cordint, denoting that honesty and firmness of character which have endeared him to the people.
